Willmott Dixon Construction has been delivering sustainable buildings in Higher Education since the early 1990s. We were one of the first contractors to construct low-energy buildings which still remain exemplar today. As a founder member of the UK Green Building Council, we are fully committed to the achievement of carbon reduction programmes in existing buildings, and zero carbon in new developments by the Government's target date of 2018/9. Willmott Dixon aims to be carbon neutral by 2012 and have zero waste to landfill by 2012.
